

Coming planned implementations

Finalizing present structure:

- Compatibility with new mobile platforms
- Possibility to link to any specific article from all of Internet
- Priority text searching – displays texts found in headings before other text
- Displaying of preceding heading for text found inside articles
- Complete compatibility with Internet Explorer, which doesn't use standard programming

Availability of secondary legislation:

- Linking from the treaties to existing implementations mentioned in the treaties
- Clickable structural chart, providing access to the institutions themselves and their regulations in the treaties.
- Possibility to easily add links to the legislative background to current debates
- Special automatically collected display of the latest legislations and decisions

Possibility for democratic participation

- How to contact and influence national and EU institutions – links and other data
- Possibility to discuss the treaty texts and propose developments
